

SIMONE ADDEZIO

Communication Specialist

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Graduate in Communication Sciences from the University of Florence, with a Master's degree in Communication and Sports Journalism obtained in Madrid. I have a strong interest in the evolution of languages and communication strategies, both in digital and traditional contexts. I am developing skills in communication planning, content creation, and the management of international events, with a specific focus on sports communication thanks to my internship at Real Madrid. I am seeking dynamic and innovative projects that allow me to combine my academic background with my passion for sports and to contribute creatively and strategically to the growth of the brands or organizations I work with.
