I am so very sad we lost a great instructor. He made a huge impact on my career and thousands of Egyptian coaches. He was inspiring, and believed in me. He encouraged me to stick through studying for the field, and gave me the tools to be successful and the inspiration and energy to persevere. He created a community around himself that filled so many of us with respect and footballing science. He always had time for us. I'm not special and was only one of thousands of students he worked with over the years. Thank you professor Mofty Ibrahim, May your soul rest in peace.

Philosophy as a performance analyst

- 1- I work on the last 5 games of the opponent (If it's the same head coach)
- 2- Study the opponent's form for both Home and Away games
- 3- Make a report of the injuries and suspensions of the opponent
- 4- Make a report of the last 5 games starting 11 and substitutions

The strategy of analyzing the 5 games

- I divide the game into 4 dynamic moments + (Set-Pieces)
- The 4 dynamic moments are:
 - 1- Organized defense 2- Organized attack
 - 3- Offensive transition 4- Defensive transition
- The Static moment (Set-Pieces) are:
 - 1- Offensive Corners 2- Defensive Corners
 - 3- Offensive free kicks 4- Defensive free kicks
 - 5- throw-ins (If they do a pattern)

The report

- Including the visual report of the opponent, I make a written report of the weaknesses and strengths of the opponent.
- Adding the key players file
- The form of the key players and their recent stats.
- A visual report of the opponent's goalkeeper to give to the strikers and attacking midfielders.

Philosophy as a performance analyst

I DO THE SAME EXACT VISUAL AND WRITTEN REPORTS OF OUR TEAM.
