Profile

Management student with a strong interest in sports, performance, and innovation. I coach children and youth in football, focusing on individual technical skills and personal development. During training sessions, I aim to instill positive values and a growth-oriented mindset.

I have experience in retail and promotional roles, which helped me develop communication skills, autonomy, and initiative. Passionate about technology and artificial intelligence, especially intelligent agents and process automation. I'm looking for a dynamic environment where I can make a meaningful contribution by putting my skills into action.
