

Angel Enrique Sánchez Silva

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Driven by my profound passion for football, upon completing my schooling and gaining initial coaching experience at Recoleta for the ADECORE championship (Catholic Religious Schools Sports Association), I made the strategic decision to further my education in Madrid – the epicenter of European football excellence.

In the years that followed, I completed a comprehensive education in the multifaceted world of football, qualifying as a coach, sports scientist, scout, game analyst, and data analyst, all while accruing valuable experience in various roles at Sporting de Hortaleza. This journey equipped me with an all-encompassing skill set, built upon both knowledge and hands-on experience, granting me a broad and adaptable perspective within the sport.

KEY ACHIEVEMENTS

Creation and development of AScouting platform; a data management application for amateur and professional football clubs, currently used by the Scouting and Performance Analysis Department of Melgar (Peruvian first division club, qualified for Copa Libertadores) in their player recruitment methodology.

Historic promotion of Sporting Hortaleza's U19 team to 'División de Honor' (the top tier of youth football in Spain) where we competed against Real Madrid, led by Álvaro Arbeloa, Atlético Madrid, under Fernando Torres, and secured away victories against traditional teams such as Badajoz and Cultural Leonesa.

Currently working remotely as an analyst for the technical team of Fernando Aristeguieta, coach of Puebla U23 in Mexico.
