ABOUT ME

A lifelong sports enthusiast and volleyball player, I have translated the values of teamwork, discipline, and resilience into the driving force of my career. I combine a natural flair for communication with a strategic vision focused on marketing and 360-degree event management.

I have gained solid experience in operations and ticketing, specifically in events coordination and audience flow monitoring. I excel in managing relationships with external partners and stakeholders, ensuring seamless collaboration and the achievement of shared goals. My versatile nature allows me to adapt flexibly to dynamic environments while maintaining a sharp focus on results.
