PROFILE

A multi-lingual Ghanaian national who is building a career and serving society through football and humanitarian support. Having successfully completed his schooling in Ghana, Jesse continued by studying a Master in Sports and Tourism Management in Rennes, France.

With limitless energy and curiosity Jesse brings people together from all walks of life using experience gained from sports and tourism management. The ultimate dream is to help Ghana fulfil its footballing potential through good structures for players to develop to the highest level and win the African Cup of Nations tournament.

The Right to Dream Academy inspires and motivates me to make sure that players receive good career path advice for both football and education.
